

Consultant Search

Ropella is the leading executive search and consulting firm specializing in the chemical, allied and related technology industries. We are now bringing the same process, research, and network to the field of consulting. If you need an expert, we can find them for you. Our consultant search service operates on an hourly fee basis at $100 per hour. There is no minimum and these are the only fees we collect — no commissions. We do not charge a commission or any fee to the prospective consultants. You will negotiate directly with the consultant you select.

Level One: Consultant Matching

We work with you to evaluate the requirements and parameters of your project. We then search our network of consultants for a match for your needs. After our initial screening, credentials will be presented for your evaluation. Estimated fee: $1,000

Level Two: Consultant Search

If it is not likely we will have a match in our consultant network, we will recommend a search. Our research team will go to work searching our broader network of industry contacts using a similar process as our Executive Search team. Typical fees vary from $2,000 to $8,000 depending on the specific requirements including industry, focus, scope and level of experience needed. We will provide an estimate after our initial interview.

Ropella Consultants

We may not need to conduct a search at all. Ropella offers a core team seasoned professionals who are experts in their field and can work with you on a variety of aspects of your business . If you need an expert for a temporary assignments, give us a call and we can present our credentials. You can rest assured you will get real-world recommendations that are practical and cost effective . Our experts are also available to serve as speakers, media consultants and expert witnesses.

Areas of expertise include:

- Project Management
- Human Resources and Recruiting
- Organizational Improvement
- Executive Coaching
- Supply Chain Management
- Leadership transformation
- Team Building
- Marketing/Sales

